the 10th - 14th of July 2017. Teaching staff from DIT will help children to learn how to unlock their creativity in five distinct areas; music, food, art & design, digital and drama. All of the subjects covered in Idea Camp will be presented through the unique learning method of creative play. This will give the children an input into the process of creativity while shaping the outcome themselves. It will equip them to use creativity in everyday situations to solve problems. DIT academics will also be working with Idea Camp to strengthen their knowledge and know-how of creative play techniques. Creativity is as important and natural to children as their need and desire to engage in play! By exposing children to creative experiences, they are offered a rich and memorable childhood, laying the foundation for a lifetime of creative expression, while at the same time developing important learning skills. Idea Camp is built on the philosophy that we are all born with an innate ability to create based on nurturing ideas. For more information see www.ideacamp.ie

SUMMERSCHOOL

Kip McGrath Tuition

Enrol Now for their Summer School! The unique Kip McGrath professional tutoring experience is available in Rathfarnham, South Dublin, offering tuition from age 5 to 16 in English & Maths. We are currently enrolling students for Summer School which begins on August 8th. Each session is 80 minutes long and runs at a variety of times both in the mornings & afternoons during each week. Summer tuition is an ideal time to concentrate on 'boosting' your child's achievements before the next academic year, to focus on study skills, prepare for an examination year or the move from Primary School to Secondary School. The August classes are an ideal time to 'brush up' after the long summer break and before the next academic year starts.

As each child has an individualised study programme, it means they can focus on specific needs – whether it is dyslexia or dyscalculia for example, or not getting sufficient challenge in the classroom. The centre is owned and operated by fully trained teachers who have also been trained in the Kip McGrath tutoring system. Call 01 490 8780 for a FREE assessment today!
